INDESCRIBABLE SUFFERINGS

Dumb Chills and Other Serious Symptoms, Complicated the Illness of Miss Rutherford, Formerly of Atlanta.

Douglasville, Tex.—"Five years ago I was caught in a rain at the wrong time," writes Edna Rutherford, of Douglasville, Tex., "and from that time was taken with dumb chills and fevers and suffered more than I can tell.

"I tried all the medicines that I thought would do me any good, and four different doctors, but got no relief, so I began to take Cardui.

"I have now taken six bottles of Cardui and am wonderfully improved. I feel better than I have in many months, and am thankful to your wonderful medicine."

There is a reason why Cardui is so exceptionally successful in relieving women's troubles after other medicines fail, and that is that it contains rare herbal ingredients, which have to be imported especially from Europe, and which by their specific action on the woman's organs, help to strengthen and restore them to health.

Cardui is more successful than other medicines because it is "different." It is in a class by itself. It is not a cure-all, but a woman's medicine—a tonic for weak women.

It does one thing, and does it well. That's the secret of its 50 years of success.

President Potest at the Club.

Members of the Woman's Club had the pleasure of hearing President Edwin Potest, of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., who lectured last night at 8:15 o'clock. A large and interested audience filled the club parlors, which were decorated with palms and chrysanthemums.

Potest was most happily introduced to his audience by Dr. Frank Woodward. His thorough mastery of the group of Rhine legends upon which the Wagnerian music drama is constructed, the delightful way in which he told the story of the Rhine maidens and Alberich's punishment at the hands of Wotan; of her waking to life under Siegfried's kiss, and finally of Siegfried's death, the restoration of the ring to the Rhine maidens and the removal of the gold curse by Brunhilde's sacrifice, held the close attention of his audience.

The tragic tone of the drama was enlivened and illuminated by Dr. Potest's brilliant flashes of wit. In summing up the lessons of the great epic, he declared that of the Greek Homer as love, that of the Italian Dante as the unifying power of love, that of the English Milton as the awe of religious fervor, and that of the Teutons alone as avarice and the lust for the greatest lesson of the Rhine gold.

In conclusion Dr. Potest said that the truth men and women of to-day ought to realize is that woman is without those property may be without. He quoted the case of a young girl who was married and came back from her wedding trip to find that her friends considered to be unbecomingly poor. "Why, Mary," said one of them, "I thought the man you married was worth a million." "Then you were mistaken," said Mary, "but I would rather have a husband worth a million without a cent than one with a million that was not worth a cent."

The hostesses of the evening included Mrs. James D. Crump and Mrs. Frank Duke, who served the coffee table; Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. George C. Powers, who served chocolate. They were assisted by Miss Louise Reinhardt, Miss Myrtle Reid, and Miss Ellen Guilgon, Green-Johnson.

The marriage of Miss Virginia B. Johnson, daughter of Mrs. E. V. Johnson, of 612 North Twenty-seventh Street, to Alexander W. Green, of Spangsbury, S. C., was celebrated in the home of the bride on Tuesday, November 16, at 7 o'clock. Rev. W. S. Darst officiating. The house was beautifully decorated in palms, chrysanthemums and American Beauty roses. Miss Mary Nicholas attended her cousin as maid of honor and wore a dainty pink silk frock and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations, tied with pink tulle. The bride wore a handsome going-away gown of pearl gray, with hat and gloves to match, and carried white chrysanthemums, tied with white tulle. W. A. Green, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and Miss Alva Britton presided at the piano.

After an extended tour North Mr. Green and his bride will be at home at 612 North Twenty-seventh Street.

Guest of Miss Carrington. Miss Elise Bauch, formerly of Richmond, but now of Baltimore, is visiting Miss Mary Coles Carrington, 1420 Grove Avenue. Miss Bauch will be maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Sue Seddon Tallafiero Wellford to Dr. Thomas Robins Marshall, which will take place this afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Gordon Honored. Mrs. George Pender entertained informally at cards on Friday at her residence in Norfolk in honor of Miss Rebecca Gordon, of Richmond. Those invited to meet Miss Gordon were Miss Mary Royster, Miss Mary Ball, of Richmond; Miss Mary Whittle, Misses Elizabeth and Lida Martin and Miss Pender.

Of Interest Here. Richmond society is much interested in the wedding of Miss Mary Nash Saunders, daughter of Thomas M. Saunders, to Frank Bernard Bragg, which will take place this afternoon at St. Luke's Church, Norfolk. The ceremony will be performed at half-after 4 o'clock by Rev. David W. Howard, D. D., rector of the church. The bride, who will be given away by her father, will be attended by her sister, Miss Rosa Saunders, as maid of honor and only attendant. Virgil W. Bragg, brother of the groom, will act as best man, and the ushers will be Samuel Hodges, of Norfolk; J. H. McNeil, of Baltimore; Charles Nelson, of Newport News; W. Hudson Salley, of Newport News; Walter Pritchard and Dr. John Jones.

Daughters of Revolution to Meet. The Old Dominion Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold an important meeting Wednesday at noon in the home of the regent, Mrs. Sidney Johnston Dudley, 811 East Grace Street.

Engagement Announced. Mr. and Mrs. L. Thalhimer, of 1824 Monument Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence, to Nathan Klee, of Chicago. No date has been set for the wedding.

Close Virginia Bungalow. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Gordon have returned from Windsor Lodge, their bungalow in Virginia, and are at the Orchards, their country place near Baltimore, until December, when they will open their town house, 1009 North Charles Street. Miss Addins, of Virginia, is the guest of Mrs. Gordon.

Date of Meeting Changed. The board of managers of the Retreat for the Sick will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock instead of Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. A full attendance is requested.

Grubbs—Wray. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wray have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Minor, to Frank Berry Grubbs, the ceremony to take place on Thursday evening, December 2, at 7 o'clock, in the Grove Avenue Baptist Church.

Class Entertainment. The classes in elocution and music of Pogram's Seminary gave a very successful and delightful entertainment in Fulton Baptist Church last Thursday evening.

The exercises were: "The Palms," Madeline McDonough; recitation, "Neighbors," Miss Essie Stralman; duet, piano and violin, Miss Ora Duke (Cleveland Duke); recitation, "Take Back Your Ring," Miss Sophie Gayle; duet, piano, Miss Marie Anderson, Mrs. Grace Anderson; recitation, "Jemmy's Spinning," Miss Ethel Bauer; duet, plantation melody, Miss Ora Duke; recitation, "Arcturion's Torment," Miss Stella Anderson; "The Uproar," Miss Lucile Sisson, Miss Susie Williams; piano solo, Mrs. Joseph Anderson; recitation, "Aunt Miranda's First Visit to the City," Miss Rena Fisher.

Following this was the old, but ever enjoyable "Mr. Jarley and Her Wax Figures." Each "figger" excelled the other in grace and beauty.

Guests of Mrs. Perrin. Mrs. Thompson and her daughter, Miss Thompson, of Atlanta, Ga., at the guests of Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. Ellen Perrin, at her residence, 318 East Grace Street. Mrs. Perrin's guests have been entertained a great deal during their stay in Richmond.

Mrs. Thompson's Guests. Mrs. E. W. Thomas has been entertaining a number of guests in her home, 2008 Grove Avenue, who came on to attend the Thomas-Forrest nuptials. Mrs. Thomas's guests included Miss Mabelle Swate of Hinton, W. Va.; Miss Mary B. Williams of Oxford, N. C.; Mrs. E. S. Fitzgerald, of Keyesville, Va. A great deal of delightful entertaining has been done in their honor, and the days have been most pleasantly arranged. Miss Swate and Miss Williams left yesterday for their homes, and the other guests will probably remain through Thanksgiving.

Called Meeting To-Day. There will be an important called meeting of the Visiting Nurses' Association this morning at 11 o'clock at the new home of the association, 208 East Cary Street, to consider the adoption of a new constitution. All members are asked to be present.

German To-Night. A beautiful German will be given in the Jefferson Hotel ballroom to-night. Decorations will be in yellow and white, and the affair, which promises to be a very delightful dance, is under the auspices of Miss Martha Wood Gold.

PAIN IN LIMBS, HEAD AND BACK

This Detroit Woman Did Not Regain Health and Strength Until She Tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When there is a general breakdown of the bodily health, either the blood is at fault or the nervous system is deranged, often both.

There is no more perplexing trouble for a physician to treat than debility, especially in women, in which there is no acute disease but in which the patient every day sinks lower and lower despite changes of medicine and similar experiences.

Mrs. E. R. S. Martin, of No. 180 Michigan avenue, Detroit, Mich., advises weak mothers to try the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "For five years after the birth of my child I suffered from nervous breakdown. I did not regain my strength, could not stand for any length of time without becoming fatigued, and was nervous and irritable. I had torturing pains in my limbs, back and head and felt sick all over.

"I was under the care of several doctors but received little benefit from any of them. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended by a friend and as I had heard of them years ago, I stopped the doctor's medicine and gave the pills a trial. I felt much better after taking a few boxes and used them until cured. The pills did in a short time what other doctors had failed to do after months of treatment."

Men and women, who are run down, will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best tonic for their condition because these pills are a certain blood-builder and purifier. They enable the blood to meet the unusual demands of the body and give perfect health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful or habit-forming drugs and the sufferer who gives them a trial, will avoid the danger so common in taking drugs which only deaden pain. These pills have cured such blood and nerve diseases as anemia, rheumatism, stomach trouble, nervousness, neuralgia and St. Vitus' dance and have been found invaluable in partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. Proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have accomplished in such cases near your home will be sent free upon request.

They are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box; six boxes for $3.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Under the auspices of Miss Martha Wood Gold.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY VIRGINIA WESTOVER.
Correspondents are requested to send communications on subjects in which they are interested and regarding which they desire information to the Editor of the Woman's Page.

When and under what circumstances did Mrs. Dolly Madison save the Declaration of Independence? Did she live in Washington before Madison was made President? Was Montpelier her home after his death?

A. W. She saved the Declaration of Independence at the time of the burning of Washington by the British in 1814. She also saved her husband's papers and letters in 1841, when there was an explosion on the steamer Princeton. Her husband was Secretary of State during President Jefferson's administration and frequently helped the President, who was a widower, at the White House reception. After Mr. Madison's death she spent her winters in Washington in her home on the corner of Lafayette Square and H Street, now the Cosmos Club.

Author of Song. Who is the author of the old song, "Locked in the Grasp of the Deep?"

M. L. C. Mrs. Emma Hart Willard, founder of Troy Female Seminary, N. Y., and one of the first American women to advocate college training for members of her sex.

Presented at Court. Can you mention any well-known American women who have recently been presented at the Court of St. James?

P. H. Mrs. Adams Clarke, Miss Marjory Chevasse, Miss Olga Wiborg, of Cincinnati, and Miss Eldora Clover, daughter of Rear-Admiral Clover.

Wife and Daughters. Is Judge George Gray, chairman of the Anthracite Arbitration Commission and of various international commissions, a married man? Where is his home?

V. N. W. He is a married man and has two daughters, Miss Anna Gray and Mrs. Henry Thouron. He lives in Wilmington, Del.

Richest Woman's Club. What is the richest and most aristocratic woman's club in the United States? Who is its president? What is its object?

A. M. A. The Colonial Club, of New York, with Mrs. J. Borden Harrison as its president. The object of the club is improvement in the working and living conditions of wage-earners in industries and in governmental institutions.

The Season's Sensation. What woman contributed to produce the sensation of the season in Richard Strauss's latest opera, "Elektra," when it was presented in Dresden and other German cities?

L. R. Frau Annie Krull, who played the role of "Elektra" with great ability.

Founder of Mount Holyoke. Who was the founder of Mount Holyoke College, Massachusetts? When did it open?

M. F. Mary Lyons, of Massachusetts. It was opened in 1837, and was the first girls' school in America to own its buildings and equipment.

St. Helena. Who was St. Helena before her canonization?

J. S. She was the daughter of Cosi, Duke of Colchester and afterward King of Britain, known in nursery rhyme as "Old King Cole." She married Constantine, a Roman Senator, who succeeded Cosi on the throne of Britain. Helena was the mother of Constantine the Great.
